• An Adventure Set in the Lands Between It is currently a fantasy action RPG for the PS4® computer entertainment system. Taking place in the Lands Between, a new world born of the collision of heaven and earth, in which there have flourished countless lifeforms. A young woman in a white dress appears in front of you. "A strong young lady? I know you won't believe me, but just now, a fairy appeared before me and asked me to take you as my disciple. I'll explain things to you later... Now, the time of reckoning has come. Let's put aside all prejudices to work together to defeat him!" • A Fantasy Action Game Made with Epic Scale While following a basic structure, the work of its development team involves the use of graphics and game features that demonstrate a unique level of quality for the series. Through the implementation of a new graphics engine, combined with the use of ultra-high-definition textures, the game is able to provide a diverse range of scenic landscape designs. • A Game with a Unique Adventure and Narrative The game's three-dimensional drama is also born from the exploration of fantasy and therefore the image of the hero will have elements that can be easily understood by everyone. • A Game that Blurs the Line between Fantasy, Action, and Adventure This action RPG can only be described as fantasy if we say that it is different from the genre. But this is not to say that it is lacking action elements. Fighting battles is one of its core gameplay elements. The game was planned with a balance between action and simulation, in which, through the use of novel ideas, players can have fun with action game elements. • More than 100 Monsters In addition to the main antagonist Puck, who fights alongside you, players can meet hundreds of creatures and bosses who make this game the best fantasy action RPG you've ever played. OVERVIEWS: • A Unique Adventure in a Fantasy World During the development process, the game's main script was written by Scott Cawthon, creator of the indie game "Five Nights at Freddy's". In addition, he collaborated with other key staff members to ensure that the script was precisely interpreted. After completion of the script, Cawthon assembled a team of people to create the game's world in order to give them the freedom to create a world that, unlike any game to date, provides

In addition, The Elden Ring game revises the way in which equipment is used, on top of the basic premise that equipment is tied to a certain action, such as attacking or running. By using equipment to cause collisions during your exploration, you are able to use your memory and imagination to your advantage to progress.

When using equipment to cause a collision, the equipment tied to that action is made available, and you will be able to discover the purpose of it. Additionally, should you fail to use equipment, you are able to recover the ability to use it when you and other characters enter a specified location called The Lost Prison.

Players are able to use raid bots, which will automatically enter the specified location, and will be controlled remotely from the controlling player's position. Those raid bots carry out their duty with the determination not to fail, and are able to sense an area that is not clean, so they may become hidden and control the environment.

Once the area is discovered, you will be able to find treasures hidden in it that will be automatically used by auto loot when you enter the area.

Should an enemy character enter the area, you will be able to attack his equipment and fight him, together with the other teammates in The Fleet. Through this, The Fleet will become stronger, and you will be able to launch larger strategic operations.

The equipment that you use in The Fleet can be attached to your will at any time, such as attaching swords to attack, or equipping diamond shields

→ Risk How do you conquer the dungeon and conquer the Elden Ring? Risk is an action RPG where you can build your own house with cards. Players collect the cards they like and evolve their house, all the while suffering the consequences of their gambles. Risk is a game of exposure and cooperation. It's a game of exposure because all actions are visible to everyone. This allows players to follow each other's mind and predict each other's plans. Players cooperate with others by trading cards, supporting their base and taking turns at the drawing table. Risk is a game of cooperation because it is not possible to survive without the support of your allies. If you fail, you all suffer, so it's no good to screw others over. ■ TL;DR ■ Risk is a cooperative card game where players compete to become the best house ■ Complexity & Intensity Risk has a large set of interactive cards. Players can place the cards on the table to build their house and expand it by placing new cards. After several rounds of placement, players can trade cards to build the best combination of cards. Risk is an intense game. Players begin with little money and have only limited resources. There are no special abilities or items. The game is based on the idea that not only will players slowly expand their own house, but also that the players will expand their enemy's house. ■ Gameplay Players play Risk to build a house. Each round, players are allowed to place one card on the table. The placement of cards is visible for all players. Players trade their cards to develop their house. The best cards are the ones that are considered by the players that trade with you to be the cards that you consider the best. The house is expanded by adding the top three cards of the same type. The additional cards are given to the owner of the previous top three cards. Trading cards is the key to survival. If you are an ambitious person, you will accumulate more cards with your own resources and with the support of others. As your card collection grows, you gain more opportunities. You can negotiate cards, and you can increase your chances to profit from your house. A player is eliminated if his own personal house collapses. The remaining players compare the cards in their house with the cards in their opponents' house, and whoever has the most cards
