present invention relates to cephalosporin antibiotics and, more particularly, to cephalosporin compounds having a fluorine substituent on a 3-position carbon of the cephalosporin nucleus. Cephalosporin antibiotics are widely used in medicine for treating and preventing infections caused by susceptible bacteria. In recent years, an increasing number of reports have appeared in the literature documenting the emergence of strains of bacteria resistant to a broad spectrum of antibiotics, including the cephalosporins. See "Horizon of Infection", Vol. 54, No. 5, 532-537, 1990. Thus, there is a continuing need for new antibiotics which are highly effective against a broad range of infectious organisms. Moreover, there is a continuing need for new antibiotics which have an optimal pharmacological profile with respect to potency, toxicity, selectivity, solubility, and the like. The United Nations said it will investigate whether United Nations staff are being targeted with sexual harassment and other forms of violence in Haiti. The announcement from UN Women came after a whistleblower described widespread incidents of harassment and abuse, including indecent behavior and the unwanted touching of the victim's body. The allegations appeared to center on the headquarters of the UN mission in Haiti, known as MINUSTAH, which is headquartered in a historic building known as the “Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception” in the capital of Port-au-Prince.

ADVERTISEMENT UN Women said the mission has been working to resolve the allegations and improve the culture within
