on windows.Q: Can't unbind the event listener on keyup I have this

---

onkeyup function: $(document).keyup(function(e) {
```

```
    console.log(e.keyCode);
```

```
    if(e.keyCode === 13) {
```

```
        //code } });
```

If I hold down on a key and let go, it will unbind the onkeyup. I can't get it to bind again. Do I need to put the function in a setTimeout? A: You can try using keyup event instead: `$(document).keyup(function(event) { // do something });` and if you need to do some conditional check you can do: `if(condition) { $(document).keyup(function(event) { // do something }); } A: var hasKeypress = false; $(document).keypress(function(e) { console.log(e.keyCode);`

---
