A user in chat said something so I added some lines to the chat standard script. But is this safe? For example, this situation a user in chat asks him a question another user answers the question directly The question will be mixed with another user's answer? Is there a risk that it will be displayed on one's own page? A: I'm not sure if such a thing would be possible, but on the other hand, we do not have mechanisms to ensure people do not display things belonging to other users. If 6d1f23a050
