KeyMacro is an advanced macro recorder, which can record events like: - pressing and releasing any hardware keys or keys on screen; -

changing of any screen attribute (brightness, contrast); - starting and stopping phone call; - sending SMS or MMS; - sending e-mail; - recording voice; - performing any program by entering an event-condition (using Mimo program or its expression language); - programmable

reminders to set alarms, set flags (using Mimo).
A key should be connected to the keyboard's F1-F10 keys, if only one key is connected, the Macro will be assigned to it, and the second key becomes a modifier. The recorder will be used in the following situations:

1. To check how software reacts to key events;
2. To record custom macros for use in CIM (custom macros are saved as CIM files, a special format used by most CIM applications, including N800 software). Macros can be recorded in one of three ways: 1. Single key press: when recorded, the key will only be pressed. 2. Short interval: press-release: when recorded, the key will be pressed for a defined interval of time (recorded with "short" mode), after the key is released, it will be released immediately. 3. Long interval: press-release-release: when recorded, the key will be pressed for a defined interval of time, after the key is released, it will be released twice. The feature of using modifier keys can be used in combination with any of the three methods. KeyMacro uses the modified-key method (a key is always pressed, and after being pressed, it will be released by the recorded macro).

KEYMACRO supports: -
Macro recording in two different modes:
"normal" and "short"

(default), where the interval for recording is 2 seconds; - Macro recording in four different levels:

"minimum", "normal", "maximum" and

"strong", where the interval for recording is 2 seconds; - Recording of 12-key press events; - Recording of a set of keys for a specified period of time; - Recording of keys held down for a specified period of time; - Key modifiers (Ctrl, Alt, Shift, Command, Meta, and AltGr); - Keys pressed simultaneously; - Keys held down simultaneously; - Macro recording in a program:
