In addition to the new features, Adobe also announced new features to Photoshop on the web, including a new user interface that creates an immersive editing experience, faster performance and fixes for bug-and-crash issues. The new tab-based interface is the result of collaborative engineering research that investigated existing methods of editing on the web. Per the new user interface, the app also features a new intuitive front-to-back editing workflow. Pro users can now tap and swipe to instantly access tools and the Styles panel. Photoshop also features single-tap adjustments, an improved navigation bar and toolbar, and a new tab bar at the bottom of the screen. Indeed, tools you are most likely to use are now more discoverable, including the most recent adjustment layers, which have been moved to the top of the tool panel. This makes it easy to access, which in turn reduces the amount of time you spend finding the tools you need. Also added to the editing experience is a revamped styles panel. Styles now feature a vertical design with clear, intuitive layout. Also included is the ability to make certain image adjustments in the stand-alone panel, rather than having to toggle back and forth. For instance, you can now turn a Levels adjustment into a Curves adjustment with a single click in the Styles panel. The revised workflow also makes it easier to access and use multiple apps and content sources together, such as Adobe Fireworks, Adobe Muse or other apps. Now if you import into Photoshop from Fireworks, for example, Photoshop will automatically import the content preferences, including color profiles.
