Screen Grabber

KEYMACRO is a simple remote PC screen recorder that works even when you do not have user rights on the remote computer. It starts recording when you press the "Start" button and stops recording when you press the "Stop" button. It will start the recording process even if the remote computer is in sleep mode, if the user has locked the session, if the application window is not visible or if a "x" is shown in the bottom right corner of the application window.

KEYMACRO requires no installations. Besides screen recording, it also lets you capture pictures, audio, and video. You can save all the recordings as pictures, audio, or video files. The audio recordings can be played back in real-time using Windows Media Player and Windows Media Player. KEYMACRO also allows you to install different screen capturing tools on the target computer. Some of the most useful are:  ScreenRecorder, which enables you to make a picture of the screen  ProcessHacker, which lets you see all the tasks currently running on your target computer  Host Hacker, which enables you to take a snapshot of the screen of a remote computer that is running Internet Explorer. KEYMACRO also enables you to schedule your recordings using the Windows Task Scheduler. For more information, see the online help file. Key
