What's New In?

The "Explorer.exe" File Virus It will create a %system%\adddb.com File. This file will contains a list of all the computers that have been infected. The Virus will send e-mails to different users in the list, usually at the same time (between 8-9 am) asking them to download a file named "%Explorer.exe". If the user tries to download the file, it will run the "Notepad" and "Explorer.exe" File and it will display an error message as displayed above. Also, this virus will delete its information from the registry "HKLM\Software\Microsoft\Windows\CurrentVersion\RunOnce\Kernel32" and "HKLM\Software\Microsoft\Windows\CurrentVersion\RunOnce\Kernel32\Explorer.exe" The "Trial" Key Virus There will be a registry key called: "HKLM\Software\Microsoft\Windows\CurrentVersion\RunOnce\Trial" with a value created by the following formula: 0x0C65AF76. This registry key stores a 32-bits virus. When the user opens the virus the first time, it will delete the registry value and do nothing to the system, but when the user tries to open the virus again it will ask to do an agreement with the "Trial" software. When the user clicks yes the virus will delete itself from the system and delete its registry value. Removal Instructions: A computer containing the virus should be completely scanned and cleaned with "Anti-Malware Software". If this is not possible and the computer is used for business purposes, it can be easily cleaned from the registry. The first thing to do is to rename the key: HKLM\Software\Microsoft\Windows\CurrentVersion\RunOnce\Trial and to change the value: HKLM\Software\Microsoft\Windows\CurrentVersion\RunOnce\Trial to: HKLM\Software\Microsoft\Windows\CurrentVersion\RunOnce\Kernel32 Then you have to clean the registry with a "Registry Cleaning Utility". To do this
